

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Thanksgiving Day.

For the abundant fruits of the earth; for notable educational, industrial and agricultural progress; for excellent and steadily improving public health; for social peace and tranquillity; for a quickening public conscience; for a growing sense of the responsibilities of citizenship; for an abiding sense of public honor; for the preservation inviolate of our inherited high standards of public conduct and service; for the peace, happiness and prosperity that pervade our land when most of the people of the civilized world are torn and distracted by war; for the privilege of forming a part of a great nation whose standards and policies of government are modeled more and more in accordance with divine teaching; for the blessings we enjoy as a nation, a State and as individuals—for these and innumerable other benefits we should give praise to our Heavenly Father and make public acknowledgment as a people of our debt of gratitude for His beneficence.

Now, therefore, I, H. C. Stuart, Governor of the State of Virginia, do designate and appoint Thursday, November 26, 1914, as Thanksgiving Day, and do hereby request that all the people turn aside from their usual vocations on that day, and in their places of worship, about their firesides, and in their minds and hearts, render public and private worship to Almighty God for His mercies and benefactions and ask for His continued guidance in the years to come.

Given under my hand, and under the lesser seal of the Commonwealth, at the Capitol in Richmond, this the twelfth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and thirty-ninth.

Cattle Quarantine.

Whereas, in order to protect the dairy and breeding cattle of Virginia from the disease known as tuberculosis, which may exist among the live stock of other States or sections, the State Live Stock Sanitary Board of Virginia, under authority conferred by section 1599-a, paragraph 4, of the Act of the General Assembly, approved March 12, 1908, authorizing the said board to quarantine against all contagious and infectious diseases affecting the domestic animals of other States, have issued the following order:

"All cattle coming into the State of Virginia for dairy or breeding purposes, male or female, six months old and over, must be accompanied by a written certificate showing that said cattle have passed the tuberculin test not longer than four months before entering the State. Said test must have been conducted by a qualified veterinarian and approved by the live stock quarantine authorities, or State Veterinarian, of the State from which said cattle originate, or by United States Bureau of Animal Industry. This certificate must be presented to and approved by the State Veterinarian of Virginia before said cattle shall be allowed to enter the State.

"Any railroad company, navigation company, or other corporation or common carrier, who shall knowingly or wilfully violate, disregard or evade any of the rules or directions of the Board or Veterinarian, establishing or governing quarantine, or who shall evade, or attempt to evade, any quarantine proclamation of the Governor of this State declaring quarantine limits, upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars for each and every offense, and shall be liable for all damages caused to any live stock by its failure to comply with the requirements of this act. (See section 6 of paragraph 1599-a of the Code of Virginia, as amended by an act approved March 12, 1908.—Acts 1908, page 307.)

"These rules and regulations shall also apply to the importation into this State of cattle from sections outside of Virginia included within the Federal quarantine line."

Now, therefore, I, H. C. Stuart, Governor of the Commonwealth, do call upon all officers of this State, and the citizens generally, to be vigilant and active in enforcing the provisions of the said law and maintaining the said quarantine rules and regulations, so that the live stock industry of Virginia may be protected against tuberculosis; and I further call attention to the penalties imposed by law for violations of the provisions of said laws, or the rules, regulations, orders or directions of the said State Live Stock Sanitary Board establishing and governing the said quarantine.

Given under my hand and under the lesser seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this first day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, and in the one hundred and thirty-ninth year of the Commonwealth.

Foot and Mouth Disease in Henrico County.

Whereas, an extensive outbreak of a malignant and communicable disease, known as foot and mouth disease, has been located and now exists on the premises of Miller Brothers, in the county of Henrico, near stop 17 of the Richmond and Rappahannock River Railroad Company, about three miles east of the limits of the city of Richmond; and,

Whereas, there is grave danger of the spread of this highly contagious disease to the great detriment and practical ruin of the live stock and dairy interests of Henrico county, and possibly adjoining counties; and,

Whereas, the disease as already developed, to say nothing of further development, will cost the State of Virginia a very large sum of money if adequate steps are to be taken to prevent the spread of this contagion;

Now, therefore, I, H. C. Stuart, Governor of Virginia, acting in conjunction with the Virginia Live Stock Sanitary Board, and under authority conferred in section 1599, paragraph 3, of an act of the General Assembly, approved March 12, 1908, do hereby declare a quarantine against the premises of the said Miller Brothers, and against all the territory within a radius of five miles thereof in all directions, and do prohibit the movement of cattle, sheep, other ruminants or swine on or over the public highways within said radius, whether the said live stock originates within or without the said radius, and whether it is being driven into, out of or through the said radius;

Provided, however, that live stock within the said five-mile area above described may be moved under a special permit given in writing by the State Veterinarian or his duly authorized deputy. This permit, signed as above stated, shall be in the hands of the person in charge, and shall accompany any live stock moved within the said five-mile area.

Quarantine is also declared against all hay, straw or similar fodder, hides, skins, wool, horns, hoofs, litter or manure within the said area, except by written permit of the State Veterinarian or his deputy, accompanying the movement, as above stated.

For the purpose of supervision of stock and enforcement of these rules and regulations, and for the granting of permits, headquarters have been opened by the State Veterinarian, Dr. J. G. Ferneyhough, at Murphy's Hotel, Richmond, Va., where he can be reached in person or by written communication.

Cattle Quarantine Rules.

Whereas, in pursuance of an act of the General Assembly of Virginia, approved February 18, 1896, entitled "An act to provide for the protection of domestic animals," etc., as amended by an act approved March 12, 1908, the State Live Stock Sanitary Board has established live stock quarantine lines, rules and regulations, and notified the Executive of its actions, as follows:

No cattle shall be moved from the following counties and portions of counties to that portion of the State not herein mentioned, except according to the rules and regulations for moving quarantined cattle:

The counties of Southampton, Isle of Wight and Nansemond, all of Surry county except the Guilford magisterial district, and that part of York county included in the Poquoson magisterial district, are quarantined.

From the above mentioned counties and parts of counties in the State of Virginia cattle shall only be moved or allowed to move interstate to points outside of the quarantined area in accordance with the regulations for immediate slaughter, or for other purposes, as provided by the regulations for dipping, inspection or certification.

CATTLE QUARANTINE RULES AND REGULATIONS.

To Prevent the Spread of the Cattle Tick (Margaropus Annulatus).

TEXAS CATTLE FEVER IN VIRGINIA.

1. No cattle shall be moved, or allowed to be moved, from the above mentioned quarantined territory of this State, or from any quarantined territory of any other State, except as defined in the regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture and amendments thereto governing cattle transportation into that portion of Virginia not included in the above described quarantined territory.

2. It shall be the duty of every authorized State inspector to give legal or written notice to any person, firm or corporation owning, possessing or having in charge any cattle which may be found infected with cattle ticks, known as "Southern or Texas fever ticks (margaropus annulatus)," or which have been exposed to such infestations, to dip such cattle or have the same dipped in standard arsenical solution within five days from the service of said notice, or disinfect such cattle in such other equally effective manner as may be specifically directed in such written notice.

3. No person or persons owning or having in charge any cattle shall permit the same to run at large or stray on any public road, common or range in any county in this State in which the work of tick eradication is being conducted, or which is under quarantine, unless the owner or person in charge shall first obtain written permission for such movement, or privilege, from a duly authorized inspector of this State. State inspectors shall issue written or printed official quarantine notice to every party having tick infested cattle in his or her possession or under his or her control, and no person shall move, or allow to be moved, any cattle in any manner from the farm, field or enclosure in which they are quarantined to any other place except on written permission from a duly authorized State inspector.

4. In order to prevent the spread and dissemination of splenetic or Southern cattle fever by any estray cattle in any quarantined county or district in this State, it is ordered, under authority conferred upon the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, that any such animal may at any time be taken up by a duly authorized State inspector as an estray, and it shall be the duty of the said State inspector, who may become the taker-up of such animal, to have the same promptly disinfected and cared for, and within five days he shall have each such animal valued and appraised by two freeholders, or householders, and the appraisers shall forthwith make out a certificate, setting forth the name and address of the taker-up, and that the animal was taken up, under and by virtue of this order, and particular description of the estray, its color, age, natural and artificial marks and brands, etc., and also its value; and having signed the same and sworn to it before a magistrate, they shall deliver it to the said inspector and taker-up, and said inspector and taker-up shall forthwith publish in some newspaper published in the same county, if there be one, for three weeks, successively, and if not, in some newspaper published nearest the place where the estray is taken up, and the subject and the facts of such certificate, giving notice to the owner to come forward, prove property and pay all legal charges; and after due publication the inspector and taker-up shall, within three weeks, proceed to sell said animal at public outcry to the highest bidder, after advertising the time and place of sale for at least two weeks by an advertisement put up in the court-house of said county, and out of the proceeds of said sale he shall pay all the just charges of apprehending said animal, and for the care and disinfection, and all charges for the fees of the appraisers and the cost of publication; and all the money arising from such sale, after paying the just cost and expenses as above set forth, shall be paid into the county treasury and held for reclamation by true owner of said animal upon satisfactory proof of property by one or more disinterested witnesses.

Any person, or persons, moving cattle or allowing cattle to run at large in violation of rules or regulations of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, according to law, is subject to a fine of from ten to one hundred dollars for each animal so moved or allowed to be moved, or allowed to run at large.

*It is difficult to make a clear and comprehensive list of the governors of Virginia, for the reason that the person bearing the title of governor often resided in England, while the real official head, residing in Virginia, was a deputy. The history of Virginia executives divides itself into nine heads, including the period of attempted colonization in the time of Elizabeth, though the real history of Virginia begins with the London Company, whose rule lasted for eighteen years, under two presidents or treasurers—Sir Thomas Smith and Sir Edwin Sandys—neither of whom visited the colony. Therefore, the early government of Virginia was intended to be a colonial council, with a president, often spoken of as governor. The first man ever to have the title of "governor" was Lord Delaware, appointed by the London Company, in 1609, to hold office for life. He held this position for nine years, dying 1618. He resided in Virginia only nine months, and for the balance of the nine years was represented by a deputy. In 1624, the London Company lost its charter, and Virginia then passed into the hands of the King, who, from time to time appointed royal governors. These governors often resided in England, and were represented in Virginia by deputies. Virginia still retained a resident council, and if, for any reason, the governor or deputy governor was absent from the colony, the president of the council was the acting governor. In 1652, Virginia passed under the Commonwealth (Cromwell), and the General Assembly, by its own authority, elected four governors. From 1660 to 1776 Virginia was again under the rule of the King, who appointed the governors. During this period there were only ten governors of Virginia, but a great number of deputies. Of these governors, Sir William Berkeley, Sir Herbert Jeffries, Lord Culpeper, and Sir Edmund Andros, were residents of Virginia the greater portion of their terms. But the Earl of Orkney, the Earl of Albemarle, the Earl of Loudoun, and Sir Jeffrey Amherst, governors from 1697 to 1763, never came to Virginia, and were represented by deputies. The last two governors to be appointed by the King, Lord Botetourt and Lord Dunmore, resided in Virginia during their term of office.

*Resigned to become Secretary of State, under Madison.

†From 1776 to 1852 the governors were elected by the legislature, and were assisted in their executive duties by a council of State. On the resignation or death of a governor the senior councillor acted as governor until the election of one by the legislature. Therefore, on the resignation of Monroe, George William Smith acted as governor, but when he was burned to death in the Richmond Theatre, he in turn was succeeded by Peyton Randolph, till the legislature elected James Barbour.

‡Tazewell resigned, and Robertson acted as governor till the legislature met and elected David Campbell.

Governor Gilmer resigned on account of disagreement with the legislature. The legislature was unable for twenty-one months to elect a governor, so the senior councillors, Patton, Rutherford and Gregory, were acting governors.
